Consent to Release Criminal History Relating to an ASSIST APPEAL

The Child Placement Review Board (CPRB) is the agency that will be hearing the appeal regarding your ASSIST funding. With some appeals it may be beneficial for the review panel to have information on your criminal history relating to the offense outlined in your appeal. Prior criminal history will not be considered.

You have the right to access and submit your own criminal history information to the CPRB if you feel it would be beneficial.

Alternatively you can consent to the Division of Family Services submitting this information to the CPRB.

By signing this form you are consenting to DFS submitting your criminal history to the CPRB for the purposes of conducting an ASSIST Appeal.

Sincerely,

Amy Wilburn
