The meeting minutes draft of July 11, 2017, September 12, 2017 & November 14, 2017 were not voted upon due to lack of quorum.

3. Discussion of:

Delaware Health Information Network (DHIN)

Randy Farmer, COO, and Jamie Rocke, Director of Business Relationship Management provided commission members with updates regarding DHIN (last presentation Jan 2015).

DHIN became a self-sustaining non-profit organization in 2012.

Delaware Health Information Network's objective is to advance the creation of a statewide health information network that addresses the state's needs for timely, reliable and relevant health care information.

In 2007, DHIN "went live" – meaning it became the first operational statewide health information exchange in the nation. During the past ten years, DHIN has developed a consistent track record for the safe and secure delivery of clinical results (lab and pathology), reports (both radiology and transcribed), and face sheets (hospital admission, discharge, and transfer data, including demographic and billing information).

Members of DHIN have access to:

- A searchable patient clinical history (including medications), available to authorized DHIN users on a “need-to-know” basis
- A web-based portal for those without an electronic health record (EHR), including auto-print functionality for paper charting
- A direct interface into the EHR with patient record-matching, for those providers with DHIN-certified EHRs

In addition DHIN and Vynca, provider of sustainable advance care planning solutions, have established a partnership to facilitate the capture, storage and sharing of end-of-life medical orders across the care continuum.

Vynca offers a comprehensive software solution to capture, store, and access medical orders for Scope of Treatment forms, (e.g. POLST, MOLST) which are vital in ensuring that patients’ end-of-life wishes are met. The organizations will collaborate to create an electronic registry that provides a single source of advance care planning documentation instantly accessible online to authorized healthcare providers in any care setting.

End-of-life medical orders allow people with serious, life-limiting illnesses to document their care preferences. However, the lack of infrastructure to support and sustain an electronic registry can make it difficult for providers to find and access patients’ documents, especially during emergencies.

- Vynca’s platform ensures that documentation reflects patient preferences, enabling best practices for advance care planning.
- Completed documents will be easily accessible by multiple providers across a variety of care settings.
- Platform will offer seamless provider workflow through electronic health record (EHR) integration; eliminating redundant data entry, improving accuracy, and saving time.
