The Honorable Nathan Cook Takes The Oath Of Office
For Vice Chancellor Of The Court Of Chancery Of The State Of Delaware

The Honorable Nathan Cook was sworn in for his first term as Vice Chancellor of the Court of Chancery at 1 p.m. on July 21, 2022, in a small, private ceremony at the Leonard L. Williams Justice Center in Wilmington, Delaware. He is the forty-fourth judicial officer appointed pursuant to the Delaware Constitution in the Court's 230-year history.

Vice Chancellor Cook was joined at the ceremony by his wife, Christine.

Vice Chancellor Cook fills the position of Vice Chancellor Slights, who retired from the bench in May 2022.

Prior to joining the court, the Vice Chancellor was the managing partner of Block & Leviton's Delaware office. His practice focused on trial and appellate litigation relating to Delaware corporations and alternative entities. The Vice Chancellor received both his bachelor's and law degrees from the University of Virginia. After law school, he clerked for Vice Chancellor John W. Noble of this court.
