- ◆ According to Delaware Law, a student is considered "truant" if he/she has more than 3 unexcused absences during the course of the school year.

- ◆ According to Delaware Law, school districts must file truancy charges after a student has reached 20 unexcused absences.
- ◆ Children under 12 years of age cannot be charged with truancy (failure to attend school). Only a parent can be charged if a child is under 12 years of age.
- ◆ A truancy charge for a child 12 years of age or over is a civil charge.
- ◆ A truancy charge for a parent (failure to send a student to school) is a criminal charge.

YOUR FIRST COURT APPEARANCE

- ◆ Your first appearance in Truancy Court is an arraignment. The truancy charge will be explained, and you will be asked to enter a plea of "guilty" or "not guilty" (for adults) or "responsible" or "not responsible" (for juveniles).
- ◆ If you plead "not guilty" or "not responsible, your case will be scheduled for trial.

AFTER ARRAIGNMENT/TRIAL

- ◆ If you enter a plea of "guilty" or "responsible" at arraignment or are found "guilty or "responsible" at trial, your case will enter the "case review" process.
- ◆ The purpose of the "case review" is to identify why a child is not attending school and work with the child and family to solve the problems.
- ◆ Following each "case review," the parent and/or child will be provided with a list of "bond conditions." All defendants are required to comply with all Court-ordered conditions.
- ◆ Bond orders include the date, time, and location of the next "case review."
- ◆ If you achieve "full compliance" with the Court, the original truancy charge will be cleared (expunged) from your record.
