Goals

* Ensure that every child’s voice is heard in every court proceeding that affects his or her life;
* Ensure that every partner in the child protection system has the necessary education and training to put a child’s safety and well-being above all else;
* Ensure that Delaware’s child welfare laws reflect the needs of our children.

Duties

* Effectuate the purposes of the Child Protection Accountability Commission;
* Take all possible actions, including programs of public education and legislative advocacy, to ensure the legal, civil and special rights of children;
* Revise, periodically, all relevant policies and procedures with a view toward the rights of children;
* Refer any person making a complaint or report required by Chapter 9 of Title 16 of the Delaware Code to the Division of Family Services, and, if warranted, to an appropriate police agency. If a complaint or report includes an allegation of misconduct against a Department of Services for Children, Youth & Their Families employee, the complaint or report must also be referred to the Secretary of the Department of Services for Children, Youth, & Their Families;
* Recommend changes in the procedures for investigating and overseeing the welfare of children;
* Make the public aware of the services of the Office of the Child Advocate and the Child Protection Accountability Commission, their purposes, and how they can be contacted;
* Apply for and accept grants, gifts and bequests of funds from other state, federal and interstate agencies, as well as from private firms, individuals and foundations for the purpose of carrying out the Child Protection Accountability Commission’s lawful responsibilities. The funds must be deposited with the State Treasurer in a restricted receipt account established to permit funds to be expended in accordance with the provision of the grant, gift or bequest;
* Examine policies and procedures and evaluate the effectiveness of the child protection system, specifically the respective roles of the Division of Family Services, the Attorney General’s Office, the courts, the medical community and law enforcement agencies;
* Review and make recommendations concerning investigative procedures and emergency responses of the child welfare system;
* Develop and provide quality training to Division of Family Services’ staff, Deputy Attorneys General, law enforcement officers, the medical community, Family Court personnel, educators, day care providers, and others on the various standards, criteria and investigative technology used in child welfare cases;
* Submit an annual report analyzing the work of the Office of the Child Advocate that shall be included in the Child Protection Accountability Commission’s annual report; and
* Take whatever other actions are necessary to help the Child Protection Accountability Commission accomplish its goals.

Fiscal Year 2006 marked the 5 year anniversary of the Office of the Child Advocate’s (OCA) first volunteer attorneys. As of June 30, 2006, 26 attorneys had devoted 5 years of service to Delaware’s children through the Office of the Child Advocate. To recognize these individuals for their service, OCA had their names inscribed on the Attorney 5 Year Award plaque, which is displayed in the Wilmington office, presented them with a commemorative desk ornament to thank them for their hard work, and featured most of them on its website. These dedicated attorneys have devoted countless hours to their child clients and OCA is eternally grateful to them.

Where We Are Making a Difference for Delaware’s Children

Legal Representation of Children

The Office of the Child Advocate (OCA or the Office) takes its responsibility to represent children seriously. The Office continually reviews and adjusts internal policies and procedures to meet new challenges. Since beginning operation in February of 2000, OCA has experienced tremendous growth. In Fiscal Year 2006, OCA was fortunate to add another Deputy Child Advocate downstate to begin to address the unmet legal needs of foster children in Kent and Sussex Counties.

During Fiscal Year 2006 (FY06), OCA received referrals on 785 children. Seven hundred seventy-four of those referrals were deemed appropriate in that they involved a dependent, abused or neglected child or a child at risk thereof and there was no current representation of that child’s best interests. Accordingly, OCA staff spent 1,279 hours reviewing cases and processing those referrals.
Of the 785 referrals received and reviewed, OCA appointed attorneys to 424 children. The majority of these new appointments went to children within the foster care system – 395 children under the care and custody of the Department of Services for Children, Youth and Their Families (the Children’s Department or DSCYF). This number does not include open cases carried through from previous years and therefore is not a complete reflection of the volume of cases active with OCA. By way of example, at the end of Fiscal Year 2006 OCA was actively representing 642 children, a 7% increase over Fiscal Year 2005, as depicted below. During the course of the year, OCA represented a total of 1,023 children, a 15% increase over Fiscal Year 2005.

Of the 642 children actively represented by OCA on June 30, 2006, 591 (92%) were in the custody of the Children’s Department. Twenty children were the subject of dependency/neglect proceedings within the Family Court that did not directly involve DSCYF. OCA also provided representation to 24 children who were the subject of parent custody disputes. Finally, OCA continued to track Frazer counsel appointments for 7 children.
Reviewing OCA’s June 30, 2006 caseload by county, the largest concentration of OCA cases continues to be in New Castle County. OCA represented 497 children in New Castle County as of June 30, 2006, compared to 64 in Kent County and 81 in Sussex County. Of those 497 New Castle County children, 466 were in DSCYF custody, 11 were the subject of dependency/neglect petitions, 14 were the subject of parent custody disputes and 6 were appointed Frazer counsel. In Kent County, OCA represented 45 children in DSCYF custody, 8 in dependency/neglect matters, 10 in parent custody matters and 1 with a Frazer appointment. In Sussex County, OCA represented 80 children in DSCYF custody and 1 who was the subject of a dependency/neglect petition.

OCA’s Fiscal Year 2006 end-of-year caseload shows a distribution of cases by county as follows – 77% of its cases were in New Castle County, 13% in Sussex County and 10% in Kent County. On June 30, 2006, 145 downstate cases were open. OCA was handling 41% of those cases in-house, a reflection of the shortage of downstate volunteer resources. The addition of a Sussex County Deputy Child Advocate in FY06 has resulted in representation of an additional 34 children – a 31% increase over FY05. In New Castle County, where volunteer resources are more plentiful, only 8% of the cases were handled in-house. OCA staff devoted 4,742 hours to representing children statewide in-house, and another 1,140 hours supporting volunteer attorneys. An additional 736 hours were donated by OCA interns and law clerks providing support to the OCA pro bono program.
At the end of Fiscal Year 2006, there were 480 children referred to OCA who were not assigned OCA legal representation. This number includes 132 cases that were still pending disposition by OCA as of June 30, 2006, and 7 cases that were placed on OCA’s waiting list. OCA closed the remaining 341 cases for the following reasons – 73 children received representation through the Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) program, 72 cases were closed due to low resources, and 196 referrals had no pending litigation, were resolved in court during the OCA disposition phase, or, upon further review, had no apparent dependency, neglect or abuse issues.

In Fiscal Year 2006, OCA closed 401 cases to which an attorney guardian ad litem had been assigned. OCA closed 4 cases where a Frazer attorney had been assigned, 33 cases that were the subject of parent custody disputes, and 32 cases that were the subject of dependency/neglect matters. The remaining 332 cases involved children in the custody of DSCYF. These 332 DSCYF cases were closed with a variety of outcomes. Ninety-eight children (30%) were reunified with their parents. Another 49 children (15%) were placed in the custody of relatives. Guardianship or permanent guardianship was granted for 61 children (18%), and 38 children (11%) were successfully adopted. Sixty children (18%) turned 18 years old and aged out of the foster care system. An additional 26 cases were closed for other reasons.
Training and Education

Pro Bono Recruitment and Training

During Fiscal Year 2006, OCA continued its pro bono recruiting efforts through its semi-annual mailings to every member of the Delaware Bar. OCA staff also appeared at various Delaware Bar Association functions in an effort to recruit new volunteers. In Fiscal Year 2006, OCA held 12 Nuts and Bolts trainings throughout the state to prepare volunteer attorneys to represent Delaware’s children. These trainings were two hours long and covered such topics as the child protection system, the court process, the internal workings of OCA and ethical issues relating to the representation of children. OCA spent 43 hours coordinating and conducting these trainings. With the ongoing support of a number of law firms throughout the state, OCA was able to continue to attract attorneys to represent abused, neglected and dependent children. As of June 30, 2006, OCA had 381 volunteer attorneys on its roster, with approximately 350 of those attorneys actively representing children.

The Nuts & Bolts trainings conducted during FY06 included:

July 12, 2005       hosted by Curley & Rodriguez (Dover)
September 16, 2005 hosted by Richards Layton & Finger, P.A. (Wilmington)
October 14, 2005   hosted by Parkowski Guerke & Swayze P.A. (Dover)
November 2, 2005   hosted by Morris James Hitchens & Williams, LLP (Wilmington)
December 14, 2005  hosted by Hudson Jones Jaywork & Fisher (Wilmington)
January 12, 2006   hosted by Young Conaway Stargatt & Taylor, LLP (Wilmington)
February 8, 2006   hosted by Office of the Child Advocate (Wilmington)
March 28, 2006     hosted by Young Conaway Stargatt & Taylor, LLP (Wilmington)
April 13, 2006     hosted by The Law Office of Edward Gill (Georgetown)
May 16, 2006       hosted by Morris Nichols Arsht & Tunnell, LLP (Wilmington)
June 8, 2006       hosted by Curley & Rodriguez (Dover)
June 23, 2006      hosted by Richards Layton & Finger, P.A. (Wilmington)

In addition to Nuts and Bolts trainings, OCA continued its offering of Brown Bag Lunch Trainings for volunteers. Bringing in experts from a variety of fields, OCA has developed a training curriculum to continue educating volunteer attorneys in specialized areas. OCA’s agency and community partners have been instrumental in making this training program a success by providing regular speakers to educate volunteers about the child protection system. The volunteer attorneys received one hour of Continuing Legal Education credit for each training they attended. The trainings were held in the OCA Wilmington Office with video conferencing downstate as needed.

Below is a list of the Brown Bag Trainings held in Fiscal Year 2006:

September 27, 2005       Physical Abuse of Children – What to Know and What to Look For October 18, 2005          Communicating with Your Teenaged Client
November 29, 2005         Legal Alternatives for Permanency
December 6, 2005          Understanding the DFS System
January 10, 2006          Representing Your Teenaged Client in Foster Care
February 7, 2006          Placement Alternatives for Our Difficult Youth
OCA Staff Training Events:

Pursuant to 29 Del. C. § 9005A(9), OCA is mandated to provide and participate in training for the child protection community. In furtherance of its mandate, in addition to the 43 hours spent training volunteer attorneys, OCA spent 518 more hours in Fiscal Year 2006 participating in and/or conducting training and/or educational forums.

Website

The website covers information on how to make a referral to OCA and how those referrals are processed; who the OCA staff are; significant court cases or legislation affecting children; monthly statistical updates on OCA’s representation of children; upcoming local and national trainings; and information for volunteer attorneys, such as the Pro Bono Training Manual. There is also a page regarding the Child Protection Accountability Commission with meeting dates and times, minutes, and CPAC near death reports. The OCA website is: http://courts.delaware.gov/childadvocate.

Legislative Advocacy

In compliance with its statutory duties, OCA both drafts legislation and advocates for its passage. Legislative initiatives come from the individual representation of child clients, the Child Protection Accountability Commission, various child protection committees, and discussions with child protection partners. Often, OCA is the agency which drafts the legislation and assists in getting the bills introduced and passed. In Fiscal Year 2006, OCA spent more than 50 hours reviewing legislation. OCA also spent 1,163 hours supporting the activities of the Child Protection Accountability Commission, many of which were legislative in nature.

Committee and Taskforce Participation:

OCA spent 252 hours in FY06 attending meetings pertaining to children. Those hours do not include participation in activities directly related to the Child Protection Accountability Commission or the Child Death, Near Death and Stillbirth Commission (CDNDSC). OCA spent 1,163 hours staffing and participating in the various subcommittees of CPAC. OCA spent an additional 429 hours participating in activities related to the CDNDSC. Additionally, OCA spent 1,274 hours effectuating the inner workings of the Office. Representatives of OCA are members of and/or participate on the following boards, organizations, commissions, committees, task forces, councils and subcommittees:
Abuse Intervention Committee (AIC)
- Finding Words Planning Committee
- Finding Words Faculty
- Medical Subcommittee
- Memorandum of Understanding between Division of Family Services (DFS), Department of Justice (DOJ), Law Enforcement and the Children’s Advocacy Center Subcommittee

DFS Policy and Procedure/Multi-Disciplinary Collaboration

OCA is mandated, pursuant to 29 Del. C. § 9005A(2), to periodically review and revise all relevant child welfare policies and procedures with a view toward expanding the rights of children. The Office of the Child Advocate is also to recommend changes in procedures for investigating and overseeing the welfare of children. 29 Del. C. § 9005A(4). In Fiscal Year 2006, OCA spent 252 hours in meetings and 276 hours working on policy issues with various child welfare partners. OCA spent an additional 1,163 hours staffing the Child Protection Accountability Commission which focuses on the effectiveness of the entire child protection system.

During Fiscal Year 2006, most of OCA’s policy work was done in conjunction with the mission and statutory mandates of the Child Protection Accountability Commission. However, in order to organize and quantify the numerous recommendations made in Delaware from the death and near death reviews of child abuse and neglect cases, OCA developed the “Compilation of Delaware’s Child Protection Issues and Recommendations from Child Abuse/Neglect Death and Near Death Case Reviews.” This document lists every public recommendation that was derived from a child death or near death due to abuse and/or neglect, from March 17, 1997 to May 5, 2006. The policy concerns are divided into sixteen categories based upon CPAC’s statutory mandate. The document has been shared with and distributed to members of the Child Protection Accountability Commission and the Child Death Near Death and Stillbirth Commission as a discussion tool for the joint Commission meetings. The document has also been used as a resource by several CPAC and CDNDSC subcommittees as well as by the Abuse Intervention Committee and the Domestic Violence Coordinating Council. The document is available in the Publications section of the OCA website, and will be utilized as the framework for OCA’s policy database that will be designed and implemented in Fiscal Year 2007.

Quarterly, DFS and OCA meet to improve multi-disciplinary collaboration. Topics in those meetings have included caseloads, improved coordination between OCA and DFS, case concerns, training and system successes and challenges.

During Fiscal Year 2006, DFS, OCA and the Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) Program worked diligently to build a joint database to track children in the legal custody of DFS in order to ascertain the number of children who continue to be unrepresented in DFS legal custody proceedings. The cooperation and collaboration between the agencies resulted in a comprehensive database that indicates the number of children in DFS legal custody, the counties they are in, the agency representing the children (or the lack of representation) and the Deputy Attorneys General and Judges assigned to their cases. The database should be fully operational by the Fall of 2006 and should regularly generate statistics thereafter. These statistics will enable all partners to more fully understand their workloads and to enable DFS, OCA and CASA to formulate strategies for ensuring all children receive legal representation.

OCA and the Educational Surrogate Parent Program (ESPP) also forged a relationship in Fiscal Year 2006, agreeing to the exchange of information which will better ensure timely, seamless educational representation for children in the legal custody of DFS. On a monthly basis, data is now exchanged advising ESPP of the legal representative for each child in the program as well as enabling OCA to track the number of children in DFS legal custody receiving ESPP services.

Grants and Bequests

The Office of the Child Advocate has a legal mandate to “apply for and accept grants, gifts, and bequests of funds from other states, federal, and inter-state agencies, as well as from private firms, individuals, and foundations, for the purpose of carrying out the Commission’s lawful responsibilities.” 29 Del. C. § 9005A(6). OCA spent 4 hours on grant research in Fiscal Year 2006. The Office of the Child Advocate continues to research and seek out grants related to pro bono services for children and resources for the Child Protection Accountability Commission. OCA has much difficulty in acquiring grants for its program, as the few grants that are available are limited to non-profit organizations. As such, during FY06 OCA was unsuccessful in acquiring any new grants, but OCA continues to collaborate with the American Bar Association’s Pro Bono Custody Project in hopes of securing a future grant.

Although the Office of the Child Advocate did not receive any grants in FY06, monetary and gift donations were made to the Office to benefit the children OCA serves. Primarily, such donations were made during the holiday season to provide gifts to OCA’s abused and neglected child clients. The Eastpoint Community Church, along with the Melson-Arsht, Pro Bono, and Richard S. Rodney Inns of Court and the law firm of Fish & Richardson, provided new toys, clothes and other items, as well as monetary contributions and gift cards, and OCA invited its volunteer attorneys to “shop” for holiday gifts for their clients from those donations. In addition, the Christiana Rotary Club adopted about 20 of OCA’s most needy children and their families, generously providing them with gifts and necessities beyond the traditional holiday gift. The Office of the Child Advocate was truly amazed at the generous giving of these organizations and other individuals who gave donations in the spirit of the holidays.

The Office of the Child Advocate was also instrumental in securing funds from law firms, individual attorneys, DSCYF employees, and others to help pay for the expenses of a terminally ill OCA client. Many generous contributions were made to help make this teenager’s last days comfortable and memorable.

In Fiscal Year 2006, the Office set up a donations account into which monetary gifts can be deposited and then used throughout the year to benefit the children OCA serves. These monies may be used for any needs that arise, but are especially valuable in helping these children enjoy the life experiences that other children enjoy, such as prom and graduation, school pictures and yearbooks, summer camps, theater, music, and adventure parks.
