Re: Tonya Frazier v. Michael Frazier and Claudetta Frazier,
C.A No. 2025-0431-CCB (KSJM)

Dear Parties:

This decision resolves the exceptions filed by Claudetta and Michael Frazier to Magistrate Brittingham’s Final Report¹ and resolves Claudetta Frazier’s emergency motion for a temporary restraining order and other relief.²

The Magistrate found that Clyde Frazier Sr.’s 2019 will is valid and enforceable. I appreciate the parties’ clear presentations during the July 7, 2026 hearing on exceptions. I have reviewed the parties’ arguments and considered the facts and law de novo, as I must under Delaware law.³ I have also carefully studied the Magistrate’s factual and legal rulings and agree with them all. Repetition of her analysis within this decision is unnecessary. I adopt the Magistrate’s clear and thorough statement of the factual background as presented during the February 9, 2026 evidentiary hearing,⁴ overrule the exceptions, and adopt the Final Order in full.

The motion for a temporary restraining order and other relief is also denied. This action is limited to the enforcement of Clyde Frazier Sr.'s 2019 will. If Claudetta intends to pursue the relief she seeks in that motion, she will need to file a separate action.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
